Video Screening Candidates

We virtually meet our candidates to ensure we base our shortlist on more than just a CV. Using video interviews to screen candidates, we can cut the hire time by up to 50%.

By using industry-leading questions, we can assess technical skills and suitability for your organisation giving you confidence that you're hiring the best talent available.

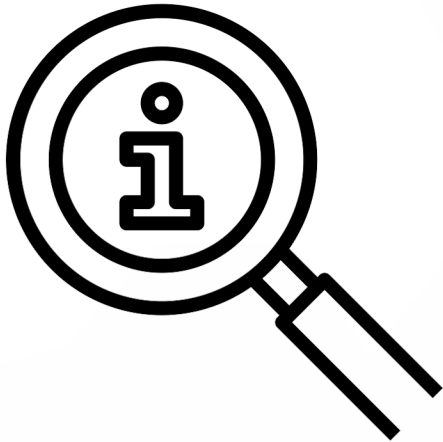

Replacing early interview stages with an in-depth screening to eliminate unsuitable candidates, reducing the interview to placement ratio by 70%.

We value the importance of reference checks and skills assessments to ensure that our candidates are the perfect fit for your team.

Bespoke Video Interviews

Make more informed decisions about which candidates to move forward within your hiring process. You can set the questions and get the most relevant insight into a candidate's technical skills, culture and team fit.

View pre-recorded interviews at your convenience, as many times as you like.

This makes it possible to identify top candidates more effectively and eliminates the need for multiple rounds of interviews.

Our centralised portal allows you to track your interviews from application to placement, meaning you don't miss a thing and can easily spot the success stories and do more of them.

Attract Top Talent

In a competitive job market, finding the right candidate for a role can be a challenge.

Working with us guarantees you the greatest advantage in candidate attraction. Using video to advertise your jobs can increase your job advert applications by 34%.
